

Important Information Regarding Procedures for Opening a New Account

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. In some instances, we may use outside sources to confirm the information. The information you provide is protected by our privacy policy and federal law.

In accordance with the USA PATRIOT Act, if we are unable to verify the information provided to us at the time of account opening, your account may be closed within 30 days.

What this means for you:

When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.
